

GENEROSITY CHALLENGE

As we move into a season focused on thankfulness and giving back, help kids explore generosity by completing this generosity challenge! Here's how:

Invite children to define the word "generosity," then check to see how a dictionary defines "generosity."

Ask: Have you experienced the happy feeling that comes from giving (sharing)? (Allow time for stories.)

Show kids page 2 of this download and explain that this challenge will help them bring generosity into their daily lives and experience for themselves that it is more blessed to give than to receive. Challenge kids to complete this generosity challenge this week!

THIS ACTIVITY COMES FROM THE GREAT MONEY ADVENTURE: A 9-WEEK SERIES THAT TEACHES KIDS HOW MONEY WORKS AND HOW TO USE MONEY FOR GOD'S GLORY.

GENEROSITY CHALLENGE

EVERY DAY OF THIS WEEK
MAKE SOMEONE'S DAY BY GIVING SOMETHING AWAY.
LET'S GO!

DAY 1: Give the gift of time. Give up one of your regular “me-time” activities (like watching a TV show or playing a video game) and spend this time with someone special, doing something they like to do.

DAY 2: Give the gift of stuff. Check out your closet, your piggy bank, or your toy chest. What will you give away to put a smile on someone’s face?

DAY 3: Give the gift of words. Do you know any kind, caring, and generous people who are making a difference in your life? Tell them how much you appreciate them. If they’re not near, call them or send them a note.

DAY 4: Give the gift of service. Is there anyone who could use a helping hand from you? Well, step in and help (without being asked)!

DAY 5: Give the gift of hospitality. Invite someone into your home. Make them feel welcome by offering some snacks and drinks, playing some games or watching a movie together.

DAY 6: Give the gift of food. Pack extra food in your lunch or throw in some extra snacks and share with someone at work or school; or surprise somebody with some homemade treats.

DAY 7: Give the gift of attention. Turn off the TV or music, put down your toys and gadgets, and simply listen to the person who is wanting to talk to you. Give them your full and undivided attention.
